<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The most recent grade for a course a student repeats will be used in computing the student's cumulative grade point average rather than the previous grade(s), up to a limit of 15 credits. (This could result in a lowered grade point average if the second grade is lower than the first, or even loss of credit if the grade is lowered to an F.) All grades will remain on the student's record. Students may repeat any course for which an F grade, an NP grade, or any passing grade was received. Beyond 15 credits of repeats, all grades will be included in computing the cumulative grade point average. Please refer to items #1 and #7 above regarding how to calculate the grade point average. Courses should be repeated as soon as possible, preferably within three semesters in residence, because of changes that occur with course updating, change in course number, or revision in the number of credits. Approval to repeat a course in which the course number or number of credits has changed must be noted on a Designation of Repeated Course form, which can be obtained from departmental offices. This form must be signed by the head of the department offering the course and by the student's adviser, and then taken to the Office of the Registrar. Deadlines for filing repeated course forms for full-semester and half-semester courses are published in the university calendar. Transfer students may repeat courses at Iowa State University for which a D 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The most recent grade for a course a student repeats will be used into computing the student's cumulative grade point average rather than the previous grade(s) up to a limit of 18 credits. up to a limit of 15 credits.
